Submission FAQs:

- Is there a maximum number of entries an organization can submit?
 - There is no limit on the number of entries – companies can submit as many campaigns as are eligible!
- Are the DOOH-E awards open to global submissions?
 - Yes, international organizations are welcome to submit their global campaigns for the contest
- Who should submit?
 - Brands are encouraged to submit directly, or agencies and/or their vendor partners are welcome to submit on behalf of their clients
- Can I submit without my client's name being public?
 - Yes, if this is the case then please ensure your submission has the client name blinded
- Can I edit my submission after the deadline?
 - No, all entries are considered final after submission through the awards site
- Whose contact info should I include on the submission?
 - You should include whomever is the main point of contact that will be managing the submission, available to respond to any questions that may arise from the organizers
- What if my submission is over the word limit?
 - That's the beauty in the art of a submission. We'll work with you to make sure you can submit but written portions must stay within the stated word limit.
- My question isn't listed – who can I get in touch with further information?
 - Please email the DPAA team at info@dpaaglobal.com
